- A vibrant street scene in front of a traditional British pub named 'Sutton Arms'. The pub's facade is dark red with gold lettering. A sign above the entrance reads 'Number 16'. A large, diverse crowd of people, many holding drinks, is gathered on the sidewalk and crossing the street. In the bottom left corner, the front of a dark grey Range Rover is visible. The scene is lively and social, with people of various ages and ethnicities enjoying the atmosphere.

A diagram illustrating a stack overflow. It shows a gray U-shaped container representing a stack. Inside the container, there are five orange horizontal bars of increasing height, representing data elements being pushed onto the stack. The bars are tilted slightly to the right, suggesting they are being added one by one. The stack is shown as being full, with the bars reaching the top edge of the container.
